

FEEAST

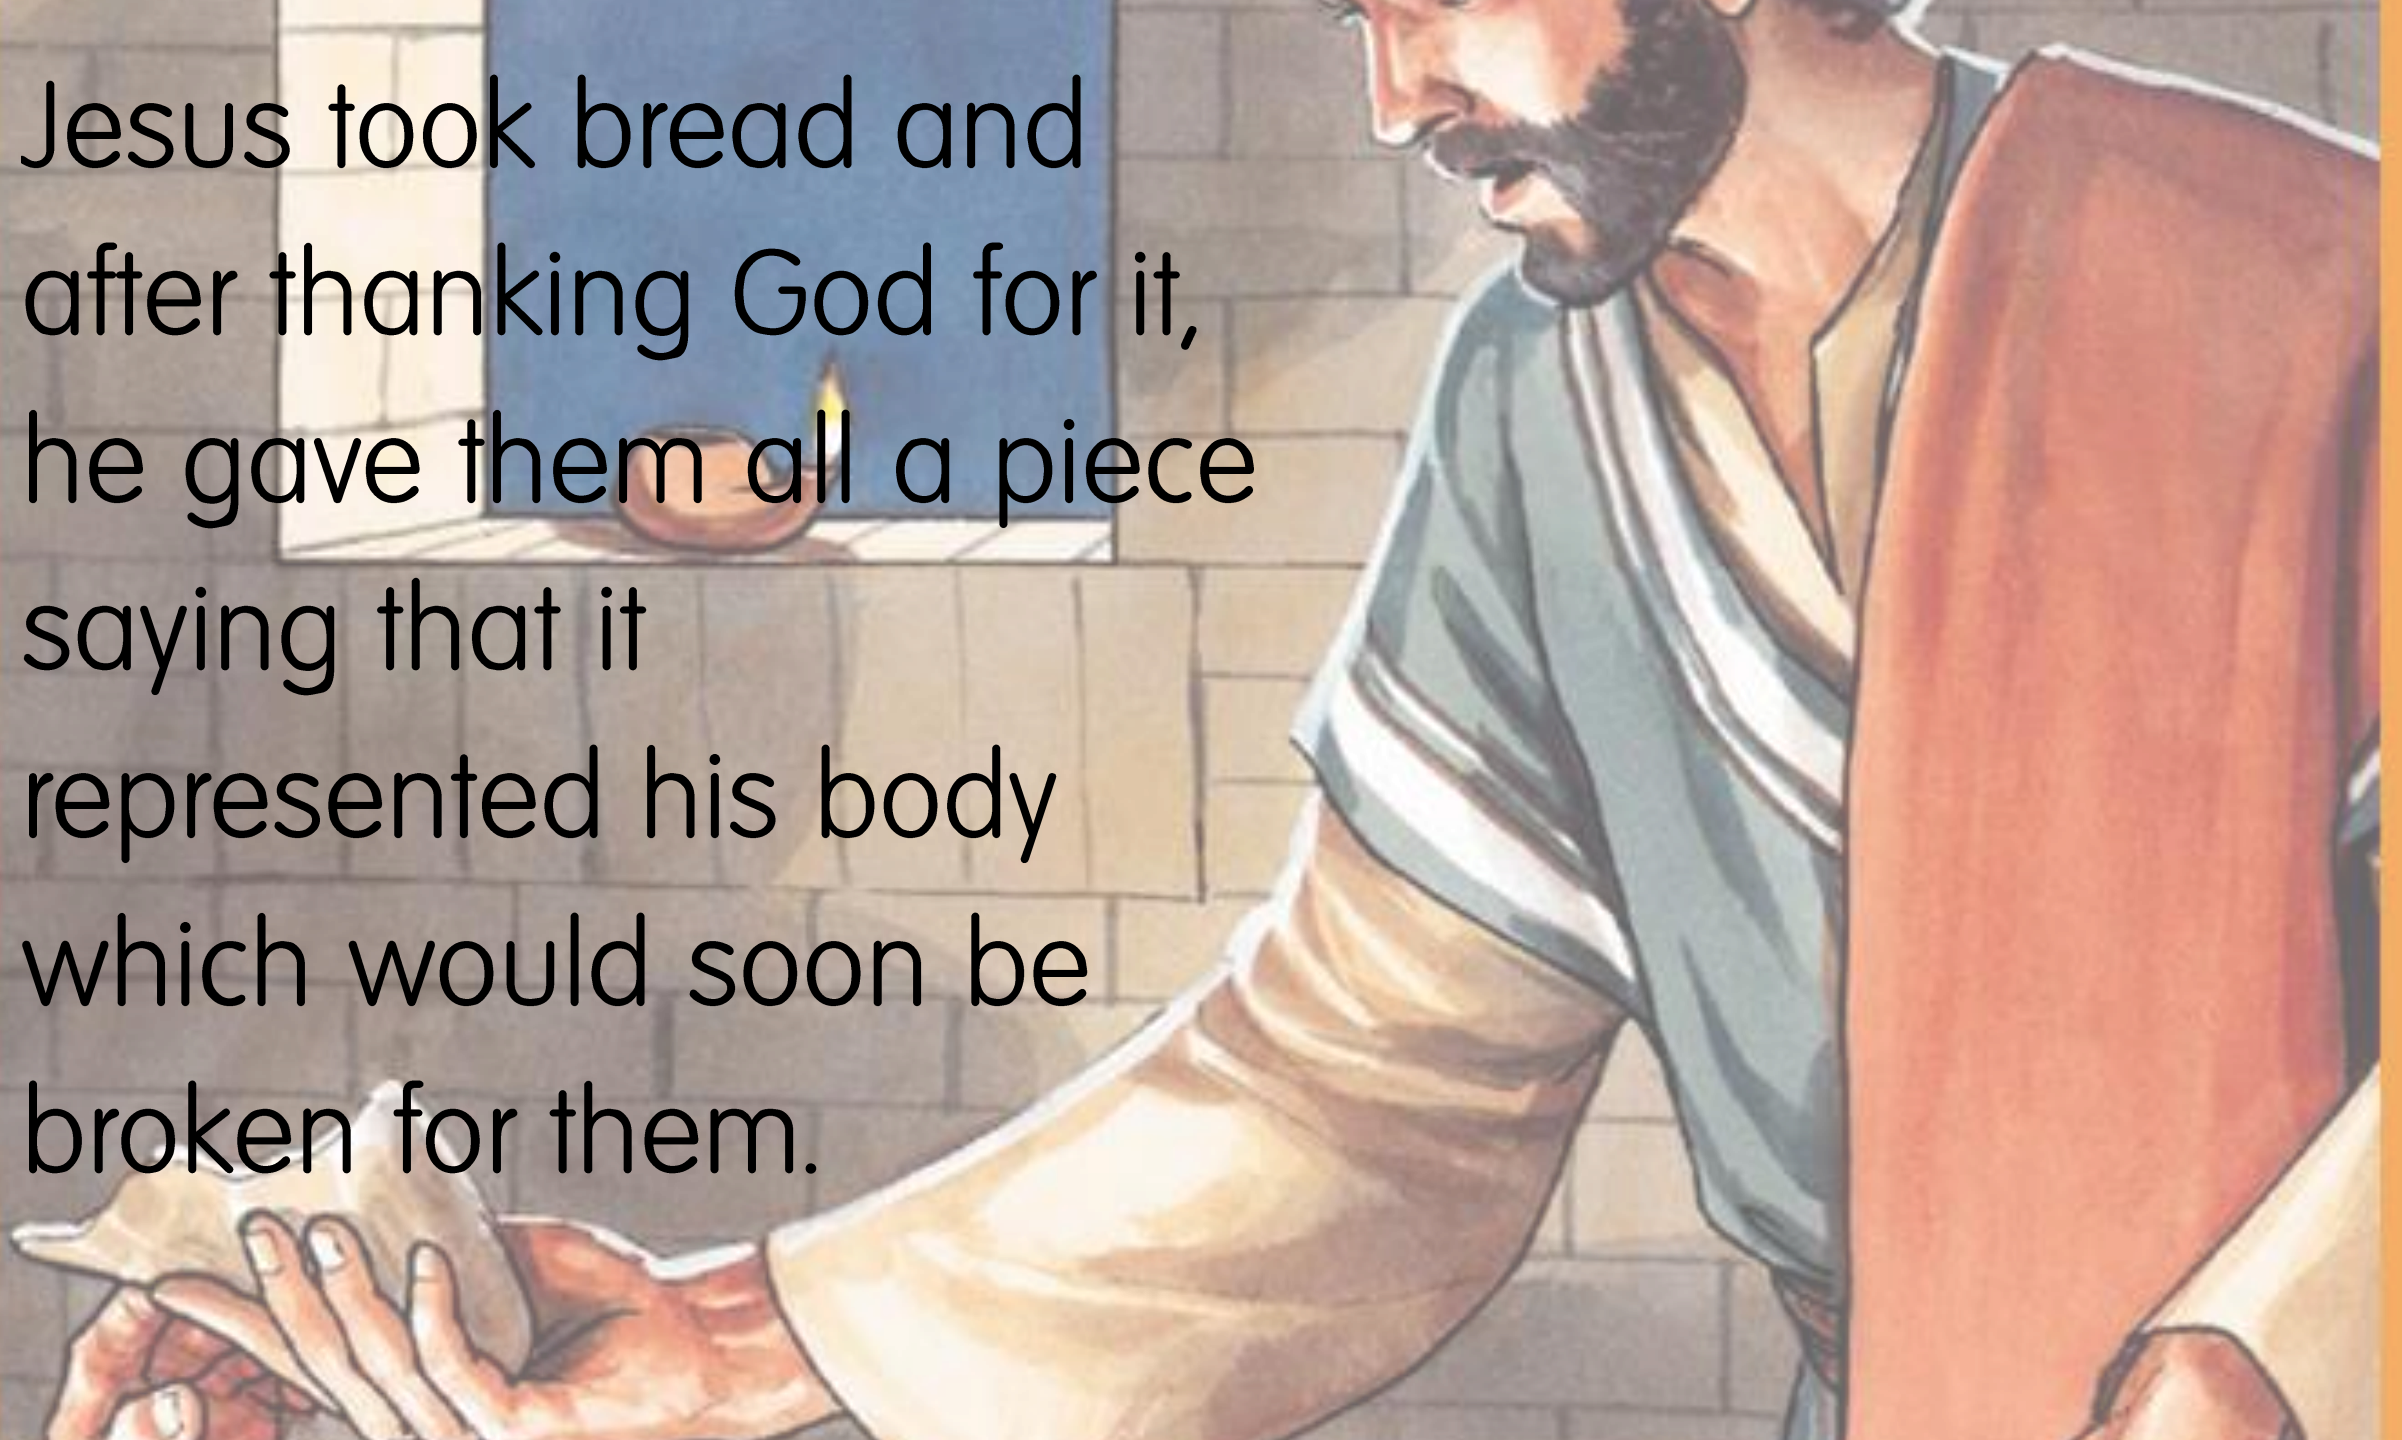

Jesus eats with his friends

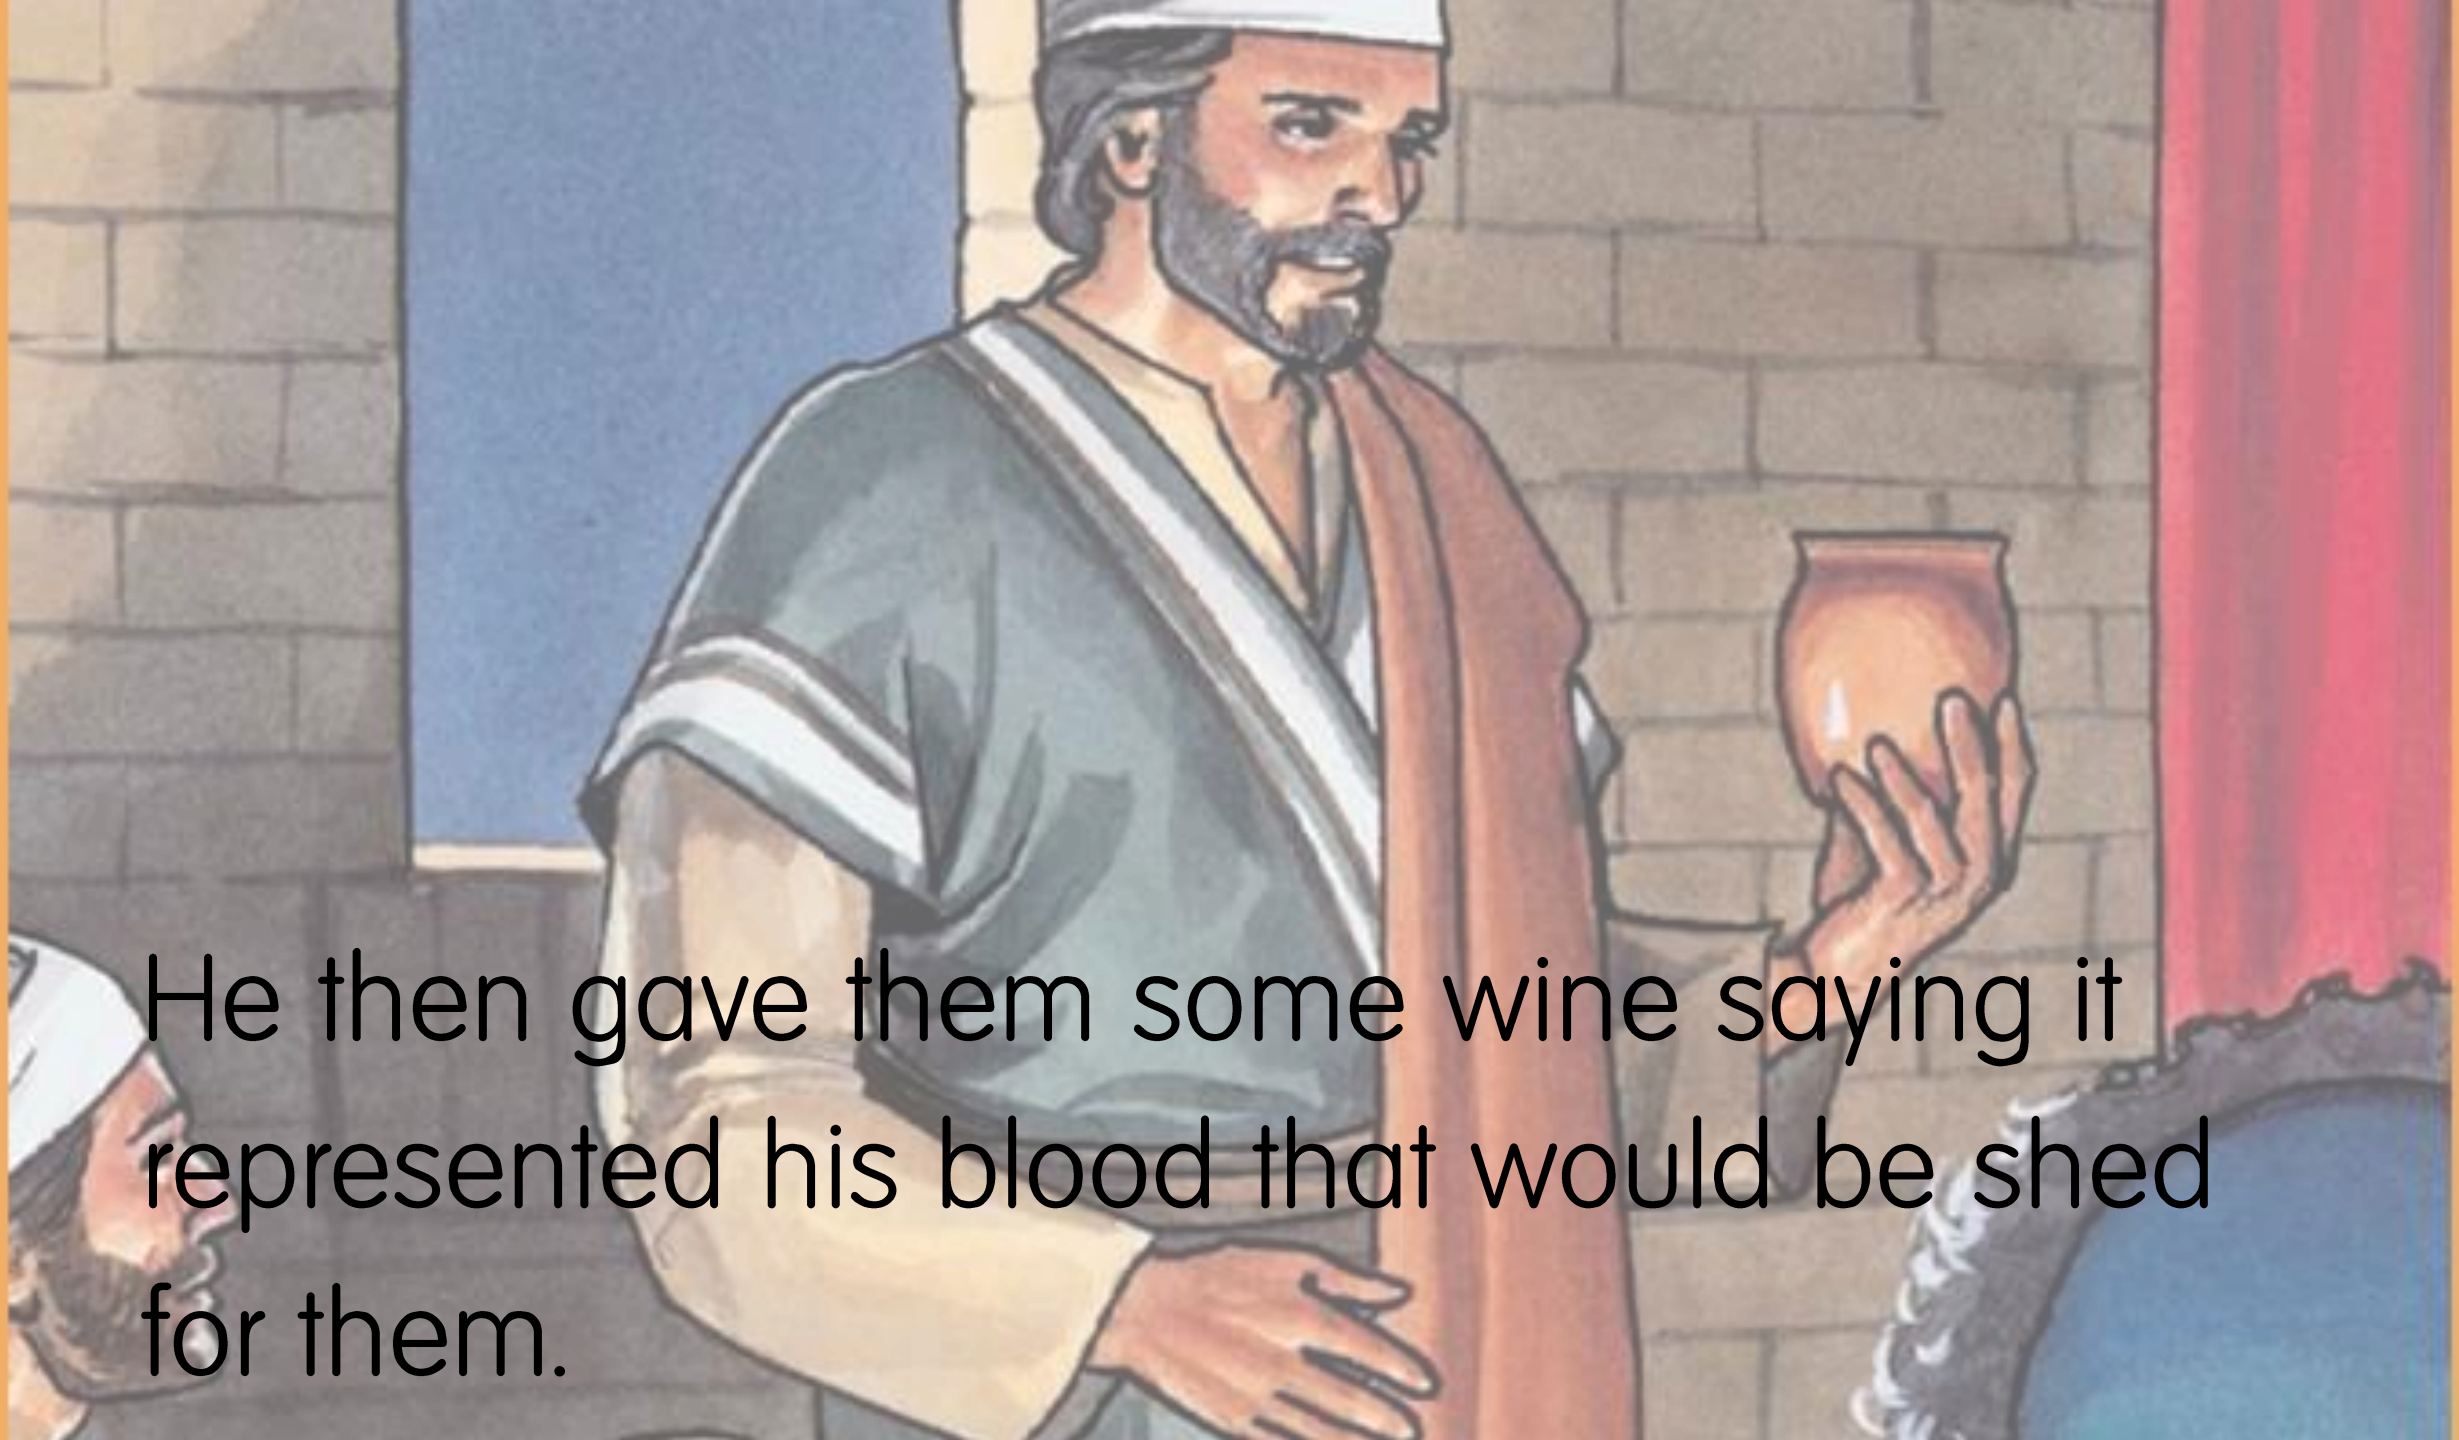

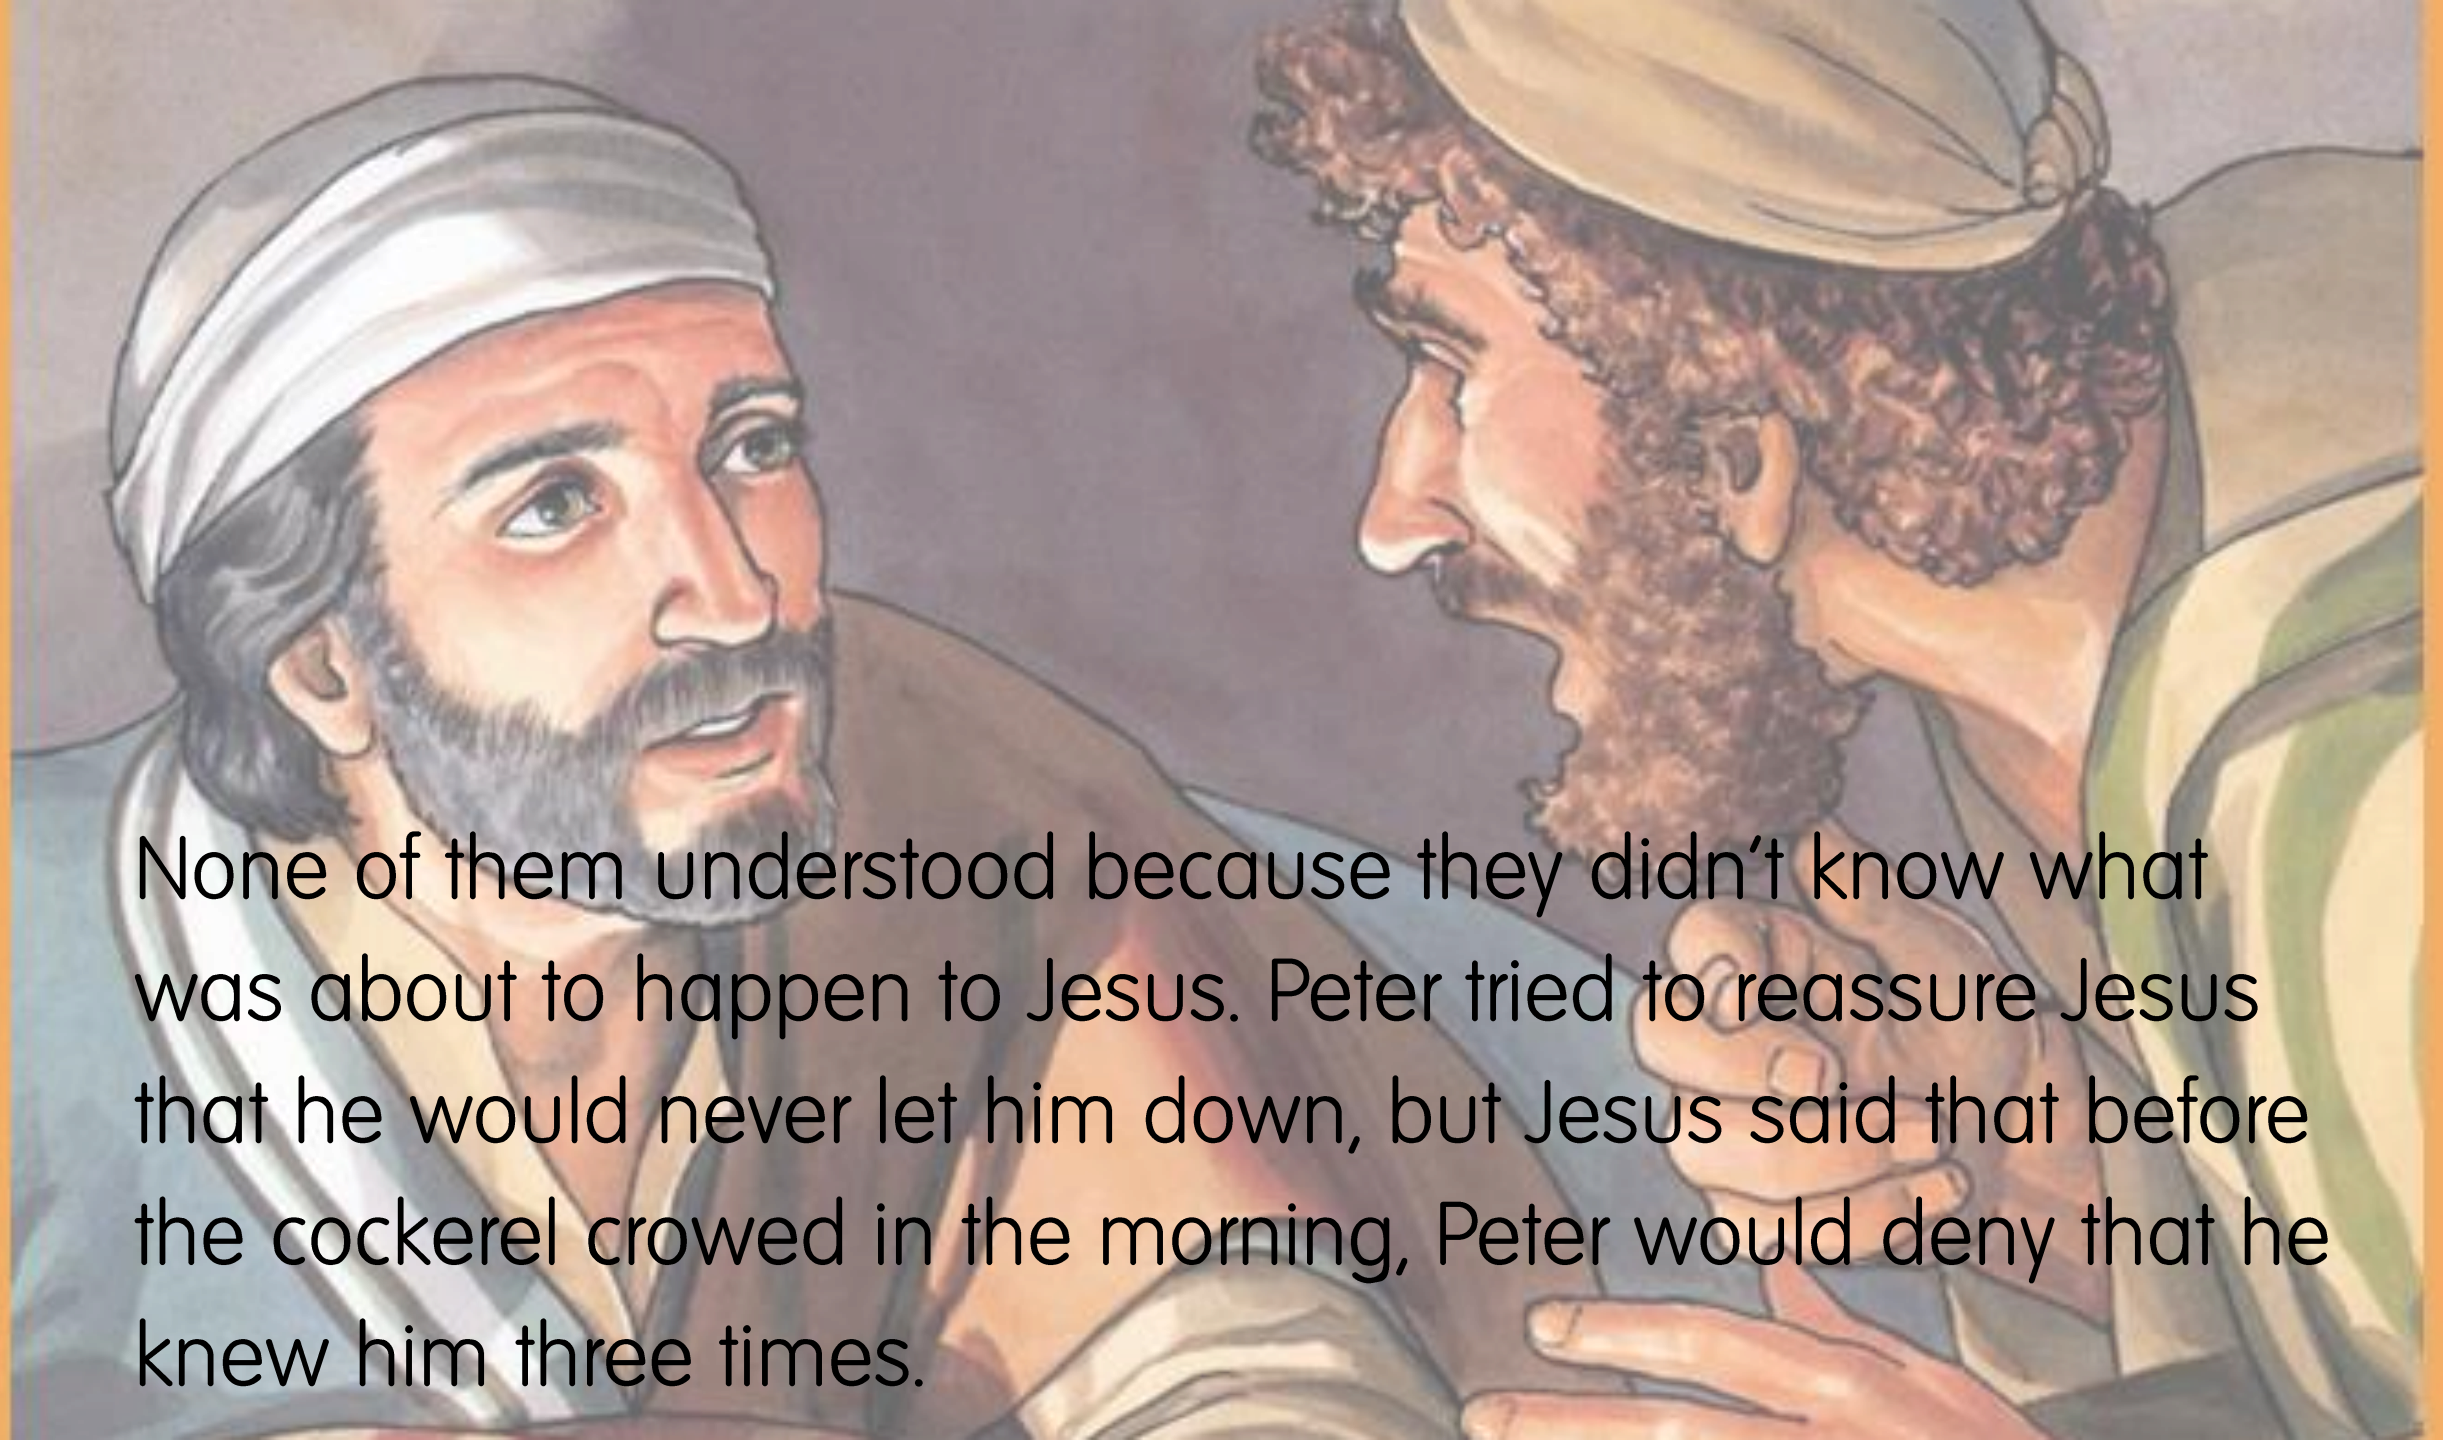

As Jesus was sharing the Passover meal with his disciples, he told them that one of them would betray him. They all denied it, but then Judas snuck out of the room.

Jesus took bread and after thanking God for it, he gave them all a piece saying that it represented his body which would soon be broken for them.

He then gave them some wine saying it represented his blood that would be shed for them.

None of them understood because they didn't know what was about to happen to Jesus. Peter tried to reassure Jesus that he would never let him down, but Jesus said that before the cockerel crowed in the morning, Peter would deny that he knew him three times.